Google Renews B'loru Office Lease for 5 Yrs

Lease among the largest renewals signed so far this year

Sobia Khan

Bengaluru: Google IT Services India Pvt Ltd has renewed its lease for around 870,000 square feet office space for additional five years in Bengaluru's Bagmane Capital Business Park.

The lease—among the largest renewals signed so far in 2025—spans two towers—Kyoto East and Kyoto West—underlining the US technology giant's bold expansions in India's tech capital.

Registered this year, the lease agreement started on November 25, 2024. The deal is structured with a monthly rent of ₹7.5 crore—₹3.9 crore for 450,000 sq. ft. in the Kyoto East Tower, and ₹3.6 crore for 420,000 sq. ft. in the Kyoto West Tower.

The agreement includes periodic rent escalations—a 15% hike after the first year and again after the third year. The total security deposit paid by Google exceeds ₹38 crore, according to documents shared by real estate data firm Propstack.

"This transaction is not just about scale; it reflects strong confidence in Bengaluru's commercial real estate market and India's talent ecosystem," said a senior industry executive familiar with the deal. "Google's expansion underscores continued demand for top-tier office space from global tech firms, despite global macroeconomic volatility."

Google did not respond to an email query. India continues to serve as a growth engine for global tech giants. Google's decision to secure such a large footprint reinforces Bengaluru's standing as a hub for skilled talent and innovation infrastructure.

With this deal, Google joins other global giants—including Microsoft, Amazon, and Accenture—that have recently expanded or consolidated operations in India's Silicon Valley. "This transaction reflects not just corporate confidence but also the broader trend in India emerging as a central node in the global innovation and services network," the executive said.

Zepto Halts 10-Min Food Delivery in Multiple Cities

Co cites supply chain issues; 44 Zepto Cafe stores to be hit

Our Bureau

Bengaluru 1 New Delhi: Quick commerce platform Zepto has paused its 10-minute food delivery service in several cities, including Delhi, Agra, Chandigarh, Mohali, Amritsar and Meerut, due to supply chain issues, people aware of the matter told ET.

Operations at 44 Zepto Cafe stores are affected, they said.

The development comes at a time when delivery workers at Zepto have gone on an indefinite strike in Hyderabad, with the Telangana Gig and Platform Workers Union (TGPWU) alleging violations of labour rights and demanding the restoration of earlier payout rates, along with uniform earnings across stores.

According to a source, more than 700 gig workers have been affected by the pause of Zepto Cafe, which began in April after a surge in demand made it difficult to maintain quality standards.

"The decision to pause operations in these cities came after Zepto Cafe received more demand than expected. It became difficult to meet the volumes while maintaining quality," the person said. Zepto declined to comment on the development around Cafe operations.

Many of these gig workers are now being retrained and redeployed as pickers and packers, either in the same dark stores or at other Cafe locations, another source said.

Delivery workers at Zepto have also gone on an indefinite strike in Hyderabad, with the Telangana Gig and Platform Workers Union (TGPWU) alleging violations of labour rights

Zepto is in the process of identifying new vendor partners to stabilise the supply chain and plans to resume services by the end of September, according to the person quoted earlier. The development of Zepto Cafe's suspension was first reported by NDTV Profit.

Zepto Cafe was launched in December 2024, offering food prepared in the company's own kitchens and delivered within 10 minutes.

US Bill Puts 10-year Moratorium on AI-related State Legislations

Annappurna Roy

New Delhi: US president Donald Trump's "One Big Beautiful Bill", passed by the House of Representatives on Thursday, brought in a whole host of changes, from tax breaks and immigration crack-downs to tweaking welfare programmes. But it also had a significant AI-related provision snuck in—a 10-year moratorium on AI-related state legislations.

If the bill is now passed by the senate and approved by the president, it would enact one of the most consequential federal tech policy actions in years. The provision has sparked a debate between those opposing a "patchwork" of state laws and those calling to address harms in the absence of a federal AI law.

The bill talks about how the commerce department may use funds to leverage AI for operational efficiency and cybersecurity. It then adds that no state or political subdivision may enforce any regulations on AI models or automated decision systems for a 10-year period after enactment of the bill.

This does not apply to regulations that are aimed at removing legal impediments to AI deployment and enabling adoption and procurement of the technology, it says. It also does not curb regulations that don't impose any substantive design, performance, data-handling, documentation, civil liabilities, taxation or other requirements on AI systems.

The moratorium is seen as benefiting the technology industry, many of whom have called for a regulatory environment that fosters freedom to innovate.

The industry appreciates the government's "recognition that a patchwork of state laws on AI could jeopardise national AI priorities," said Jason Oxman, president and CEO of tech industry body ITI Council, in a letter to a subcommittee involved in the legislation on Wednesday.
